TIE IT ON October!

October is a very busy month at Arleth. We celebrate Red Ribbon Week and the Week of Respect. We participate in Fire Safety Day. It is also National Bullying Prevention Month. We tie this in with our character trait of the month which is Respect. Below are some highlights to detail a few of these activities.

Fire Safety Day

Fire safety day was held on October 7. The Sayreville Fire Department visited our school to help promote fire safety. The brave Sayreville firefighters provided an assembly and brought a variety of fire trucks and equipment that the students were able to learn about. It was a fun and educational program that was enjoyed by all.

Character Education

There were a variety of activities to teach children about our character trait of the month. Students made posters and displays which were hung around the school portraying the traits of Respect. You will find the student's work displayed throughout Arleth articulating what respect means to them. There were also lessons developed by the character education team that were taught throughout the school. Mrs. Wichinsky, our school counselor, visited classrooms teaching about "Bucket Fillers". Students also talked about what respect means to them on our daily broadcast. Our wonderful PTO sponsored an anti-bullying assembly by Josh Dreaan.

TIE IT ON

We will end our month-long awareness program with an activity called "TIE IT ON". On Monday, October 27, students will receive an orange ribbon as a reminder to stand up to bullying. They will tie the ribbon to their Arleth folders. We are hoping that the orange ribbon will serve as a reminder to stand up for what is right, to make good choices, and to always be respectful.
